FOOD AND CULTURE DEBATE

TWO TRUTHS AND A LIE

1. Think of two statements about yourself that are true and one that is untrue (this is your lie).
2. When it is your turn, tell the group your three statements (don't say which are true or not!)
3. The other students guess which statement was the lie.

Suggested Topics:

Sports: What sports have you played? (Including esports.) What sports do you enjoy watching?

Food: What interesting foods you have eaten? What foods would you like to eat? What countries you have eaten food in?

"ALL ICE IS HOME ICE" - DISCUSSION

The video is "controversial," meaning it has a message that Canadians and others may have strong feelings about.

What is the message of the video?

"ALL ICE IS HOME ICE" - DISCUSSION

Opinion: "International sports competitions make cultural differences worse. These competitions make people too proud of their own countries and hostile towards other countries."

Do you agree with this opinion?

"JAPANESE PEOPLE ATTEMPT TO EAT MARMITE"

As you watch the following video, keep in mind the following questions:

- Would you like to try eating Marmite?
- Are there any foods you like but your friends/family find strange?
- What foods in your culture do you think travellers may not enjoy at first?

DEBATE AND DISCUSSION

Study Room A (with Alex)

Position 1: “If someone is served a food they don’t enjoy, they should eat it even if they feel sick in order not to insult the person who served them the food”.

Position 2: “If someone is served a food they don’t enjoy, they have the right to demand something they would prefer.”

Study Room D (with Troy)

Position 1: “People should not have to take precautions for people with allergies. Instead, people with allergies should be the ones to take all precautions.”

Position 2: “People must be very cautious when serving food to others because allergies are becoming more common.”
